

Building Foundations for Business Improvement – preparing people for progression & change

This 2 day training workshop is focused on the human elements of business improvement, and provides firm foundations for improvement projects generating measurable results and engaged teams.

This workshop incorporates a broad introduction to business improvement methodologies such as Lean Six Sigma, but very much focuses on the human elements of effective and sustainable change and progression.

The workshop combines change theory, people management and team working techniques, combined with practical exercises to reinforce the tools and skills introduced.

Delegates will use their real -world organisational scenarios to consider planned improvement projects and the associated people related challenges and opportunities.

At the end of the workshop delegates will have produced materials that they can apply to actual improvement projects. They will have considered the needs of all project stakeholders and be prepared to manage their projects to a successful conclusion utilising engaged staff and team members.

TOPICS COVERED

- The People Aspects of Business Improvement
- Business Improvement Tools
- Why & How to Change People
- People Working in Teams
- Managing People through Improvement Projects
- Applying the Principles in your Business.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Any team member required to engage people in improvement initiatives and solutions

BENEFITS TO YOUR ORGANISATION

- Solid, proven, practical training, coupled with the exploration of skills, tools and techniques related to people and change management
- Staff with an ability to not only deploy Lean Six Sigma methodologies, but also keep team members engaged in their improvement projects
- Fast positive impact on your business to gain full benefit from your Lean Six Sigma initiatives

PRICE & BOOKING

E-mail us at RNC.Info@RNConsulting.co.uk

£1,000 + VAT per person